“ The core driver behind the work that I do is enabling lives and organisations that work well. Thus I focus on enabling individuals and teams to be the best that they can be as they strive to achieve sustainable success. Within this, there is a particular buzz when clients break through the limits of what had previously been seen as possible. Ideal clients are those who want to make a change, they are open and curious about learning and they are prepared to follow through on identified actions.

My career has spanned engineering line management, organisational change and leadership development. I draw on cutting edge knowledge of brain science and emotional intelligence as I use simple, practical ideas to help individual and team clients to get clarity on their purpose and desired results while understanding crucial linkages between capability, motivation and performance.

My work has spanned a variety of business sectors and organisations in Ireland, Britain, Europe and the USA. Client organisations include Stryker Ireland, Mainstream Renewable Power, the Musgrave Group, Diageo, EY (Dublin & London), Zurich (Ireland), BT (British Telecom), Coillte Group (Irish Forestry), Microsoft, Royal Bank of Scotland Group, Citizens Bank (USA), Centrica Storage (UK), Scottish Enterprise, Pfizer, Genzyme, GE Money, Kerry Foods, ESB (the Irish Electricity Supply Board) and Standard Life.
